

Rosina Andrews

Elite Winter Intensive 2019

About

Passionate about exposing elite young dancers to new techniques and inspiring them beyond their current boundaries, Rosina's intensive series (Summer and Winter Intensives) was created in 2014 for the countries young dancers to meet and share experiences and techniques in a non-competitive environment.

Rosina has created a course that is different from others and explores the necessary elements needed for jazz and contemporary dance as well as complimentary additional skills.

Rosina has worked all over the world training some of the best young dancers and felt that the UK needed a course to collaborate them all together. After the immense successes of the last three years the Winter Intensive is booking fast

Rosina has created an intensive that is different from others and explores the necessary elements needed for jazz and contemporary dance as well as complimentary additional skills. Dancers will be split into four age related groups.

Rosina has worked all over the world training some of the best young dancers and felt that an intensive to collaborate them all together would be a good idea. After the immense successes of the last five years our intensives book very fast.

The two days will include not only a selection of different classes from master educators.

"I just wanted to say that my daughter had the most amazing time. Watching both classes today you could see why. Please thank your faculty for also giving her such a positive and encouraging experience. She learnt so much, in so many disciplines."

Application

Requirements

- Dancers should be in year 5 or above. Aged 10+
- Dancers should have a good knowledge of ballet and jazz dance and have participated in dance classes more than three times a week for over 3 years.
- Dancers 14-20 years should be aspiring to dance or perform professionally or in full time training.
- Dancers need to gain permission from their teachers and current school before applying to the intensive.

For dancers that Rosina has not taught before, application is by audition video application. Please see separate audition form for information.

Location

The winter intensive will be based in the studios of the Myra Tiffin Performing Arts School in Stony Stratford, Milton Keynes, these studios are purpose built with sprung floors, mirrors, gymnastics equipment and rigged for Aerial Silks. Milton Keynes is a city, around 35mins by train, north of London. This year also to accommodate the growing numbers and the four groups, an extra school location in the vicinity to the studio will be used.

Accommodation

We do not organize homestay places like summer school for our winter intensive unfortunately. There is a selection of Hotels in walking distance to the studio, The Cock Hotel Stony Stratford, The Bull Hotel Stony Stratford, Travelodge Old Stratford, Home Farm Beachampton, The Crown Hotel Stony Stratford, Hilton Hotel Milton Keynes, these are just a few that are recommended.

We also welcome dancers to commute to the studios and live at home during the week.
